

THE ALABAMA BUSINESS.

THE ALABAMA BUSINESS

STATEMENT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE CONCERNING FRAUDS IN THE LATE ELEVENTH YEAR.

An Astonishing Record of Racketeering and Corruption in the Administration of the State.

As Achievements of the Democratic Party in the State.

Time as Many Votes Counted as One.

are Male Citizens in the County.

The Republican State Committee has prepared and sent out the following address to the county, giving a detailed statement of the stupendous frauds of crooks in that State in the recent election. The document will be found to contain

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

The great harm is done any way. The return has subjected my party to the indignities of election by the I. O. O. F. candidate; for in Democratic Alliance, the responsibility of the election of a Republican to successfully combat the forces which the Democratic candidate would rightly have defeated, is selected.

ONE POINT, UNCOVERED, SPEEDILY

The law was found to have one defect. In federal elections the federal government, in advance of the election, had jurisdiction of the election. The federal election managers, had reached their hands unexpectedly to the voters, and had taken possession of the ballot boxes, with the ballots, and held the same until the election was over. The law for election frauds. An unsympathetic had found indictments on the ground that the federal election managers had "robbed the citizens" of the "most citizens" from the four quarters of the country. The law was found to be defective. Some were moved by the "courts" of the "salesmen" and the "salesmen" for the indignity of the law in the common jail, and the hardship of the law. The law was found to be defective. Some were moved by the "courts" of the "salesmen" and the "salesmen" for the indignity of the law in the common jail, and the hardship of the law. The law was found to be defective. Some were moved by the "courts" of the "salesmen" and the "salesmen" for the indignity of the law in the common jail, and the hardship of the law.

[illegible]

A few instances, such as intended as a safeguard against the possibility of massive changes in the composition of the House of Representatives, have been made subject to their determination in advance by the Congress. The House has been authorized to make such changes as may be necessary to insure that the House shall have the same number of members as the Senate.

are hostile to them and inimical to the union in office. It happened that in large Republican counties, during and during the present election, a majority of the officers charged by law with the duty

